

CMG Memorial Foundation Scholarship Award Application

If your credit union is under $100 million in assets, then this scholarship is for you.

Alloya Corporate FCU is pleased to offer the CMG Memorial Foundation Scholarship, in honor of the late Christine M. Gross, an Alloya friend and colleague. The foundation was formed to help smaller credit unions—those under $100 million in assets—participate in Alloya’s educational opportunities when cost is a prohibitive factor. Opening doors to education events, for which the cost of attendance could be beyond the means of a smaller credit union, was an issue close to Christine’s heart.

Scholarship award benefits will be used to cover conference costs to attend designated credit union educational events and the scholarship includes registration fees as well as travel (not included for CUNA GAC) and hotel accommodation expenses.

When an educational opportunity is announced for which a scholarship will be offered, interested capitalized members may complete this CMG Memorial Fund Application and return it to us at the address below by the deadline indicated in the announcement. Award recipients will be notified before the registration deadline for the event.
